GOOSEY FAIR, TAVISTOCK

Wednesday 13th October 2010

Every second Wednesday in October Tavistock plays host to an annual fair dating back to the 12th Century. Farmers brought their geese for sale, and drove them through the streets to the Market. Although this practice has virtually stopped, it is still possible to obtain goose lunches at the various restaurants and cafes in the town. The Fair attracts market traders and showmen from all over the country. Stalls and side shows are set up in the centre of the town, and the adjacent side roads are filled with over 200 traders.
